

Share light with Bethlehem this Christmas

Tucked away near the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem (behind a 26 foot wall) the gift of life is celebrated through artistic creation by people with and without intellectual difficulties in the L'Arche community

Life in Bethlehem is hard these days (no economy, great uncertainty, fear, army raids with tear gas, closed roads and more)

The community needs 400,000$ to create safety and security for a year.

The impact in the wider community ripples outwards as Ma'an lil Hayat (Together For Life) reaches out; taking snacks and good to cheer to the chemotherapy clinic, buying wool from local shepherds, teaching university interns, welcoming any and all visitors, and providing a sense of security for the people with disabilities and their families
